RED DEER SCHOOLS' FIELD DAY

The Red Deer Schools held their annual field sports on Friday afternoon last. There was a large number of events for boys and girls of all ages, every event being well filled. A greater number than usual of the parents and friends of the scholars attended, which should be pleasing to the principal and his staff, but there is no reason why a greater number of parents should not show more interest in the doings of the children in the way of athletics, once a year. The sports were much better organized than in the past, but still the events dragged on till about 8.30, which, considering the weather, which was cold and dismal, was too long. There was a marked improvement all round in the different events over other years, and there is no doubt that the youngsters are imbued with the spirit of sport, and it is up to the Education Board and the teaching staff to continue in the good work of instilling the spirit of the boys and girls at present shown. There is no doubt that if we look at the matter in a serious light, that on the form shown by our boys in field events, the very few are a long way behind what we should be. Take, for instance, the jumping at the last Dominion Day sports. With one or two exceptions, it was the poorest display for the name; but we are pleased to see that it has come along well lately, and at the school sports a very creditable display was made, a number of the boys jumping in a manner that clearly shows we have the material—all we need is a system of training. The times made by both boys and girls in the running races do not appear to be very fast, but we have to take into consideration the roughness of the ground, particularly in the 220 yards. The relay race was done in good time when we consider the size of the boys taking part. The basketball games were great attractions. The Ladies' College brought down their team and played an exhibition game with the School, which was greatly enjoyed. In fact, the basketball games drew all the spectators. It would probably be for the better success of the School sports if there was some kind of an alternating system to the field day, so that there would be fewer events, which would attract a greater number of people, at the same time, and a series of training for the scholars, giving them the necessary amount of enthusiasm to be among the leaders on the great field day. The principal and staff and the officials are to be commended for their energy and the success attained.

The following were the officials: Boys' events—Judges, Mayor Galbraith and W. H. Hadley, timekeepers, H. J. Snell and P. S. Simpson; starter, Rev. C. W. Moore. Girls' events—Judges, Mrs. Muldrew and Mrs. J. A. Gaetz; timekeepers, Mrs. G. W. Greene and Mrs. Quigg; starters, Mrs. H. H. Tallman and Mrs. J. A. Carwell. Basketball—J. F. Boyce and A. R. Complaints are reaching this office about the trouble and delay in getting mail to Rocky Mountain House. This should not be, and the proper authorities should take the matter into their hands and see that on to complain about this matter would be well advised if they wrote the Postmaster-General about it. They would be doing the public a service. In one instance that has come to our knowledge the person found it necessary to register a letter to ensure its delivery, two previous letters not being delivered. The same party claims he hardly ever receives his News. It is time an investigation took place.

RED DEER CREAMERY AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

The latest honors won by the Red Deer Creamery that we have heard of was at Victoria, B.C., when Mr. Campbell carried off the two firsts for creamery butter at the exhibition held in that city on September 28th.
Red Deer district leads the Dominion.

Red Deer Archdeaconry

What's there in a name? Much sometimes, especially in the historical titles in the ministry of the Church of Christ. A large territory, north, south, east and west of our city is embraced in the above title. It is the territory over which Archdeacon A. J. B. Dewdney has been appointed by the Bishop of Calgary. Within this large territory several Anglican clergy and a few laymen are ministering.

On Monday last, by invitation of the Archdeacon, most of these clergy and laymen assembled at the Archdeacon's home near Red Deer. They found that everything had been done to insure a memorable occasion. Five spacious tents had been erected, three for use as sleeping rooms, one as a meeting and writing room, and the largest as a house of prayer. These five tents stood in a group within the charmingly wooded grounds close to the Archdeacon's house. There, from Monday to Friday, the clergy and laymen, in a vigorous and inspiring life. Each day's programme was a full one, and was admirably carried out. On Tuesday the Rev. Canon Webb, of Edmonton, conducted a Quiet Day, during which he gave some helpful addresses. The mornings and evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday were devoted to services, Bible study, Deaconry Chapter meetings, and the reading and discussion of papers on special subjects. These papers included "Pastoral Visitation," by the Rev. H. Montgomery; "Clerical Stipends and Methods of Payment," by the Archdeacon, and "The Adaptability of Christianity to Modern Needs," by Rev. O. Creighton, all most instructive and drawing forth helpful discussions. Very human, the clergy also enjoyed the diversions of a motor ride to Markerville on Wednesday afternoon, while four, full of sporting instinct, sought prairie chicken. Evidently, however, the birds got word of their intention, for these sportsmen walked more miles than they bagged birds, but before evening they had a mixed bag, which proved the proof of their marksmanship. Thursday afternoon visitors from town and country were expected, but weather conditions proved a hindrance. However, the entertainment was varied and full of merriment. Possibly friends of the clergy will ask how they fared at meals. Well, take from the writer that Mrs. Dewdney and Miss Tryon have solved "on their own" the problem how to feed fifteen clergy like princes. All too soon the time passed. Long will the first assembly of the Archdeaconry of Red Deer be remembered by all who were fortunate enough to be present. If anyone returned to his work in town or country without feeling helped and encouraged, he has only himself to blame.

North Red Deer Notes
The regular meeting of the Council of North Red Deer was held on Monday evening, all the members of Council present, with Reeve Kent in the chair.
After the reading of the minutes of the last regular meeting, and of the two special meetings held since that time, the accounts were read and ordered paid. Jas. Cruickshank, $3.00, was the only account.
Mr. Satchel applied for permission to erect a large billboard on the triangular lot, No. 22, Block 24, facing the railway. Permission declined.
The proposed subdivision of lot 23, Fairview, owned by Mr. Wm. Rich, was ordered referred back to the engineers to have 16 foot, 5 inch allowances along the south made to conform to the adjoining street allowance of 34 feet.
Tenders for construction of a 4 ft. plank sidewalk were next considered, that of Messrs. Baird & McKenzie being the lowest at 26 cents per lineal foot for sidewalk, and 28 cents per lineal foot for crossing.
The tender of Messrs. Baird & McKenzie was accepted, and it is probable that the work will be rushed along.
Owing to the death of Jos. Peets, who had acted for the village during the past summer in several capacities in most faithful and efficient manner, it was resolved that a letter of condolence be forwarded to his widow, and that the Council be represented at his funeral. It had been intended to appoint Mr. Peets foreman of the work to be gone on with, but at the request of the Reeve, this matter was postponed till a later date.
The Council meeting was then closed, and the Council met immediately as the Board of Health.

Violet Dulce Perfume and Toilet Preparations

In the south of France, near the border of Italy, there springs in early January the Parma Violet, one of the finest and sweetest that flows. It is loveliest in the shade of the olive trees. The peasants who gather this violet for us go out soon after midnight to pluck it while it is still wet with dew. Before dawn, tons upon tons of these violets are heaped up in the distilleries. By noon they have been converted into the concentrated essence that comes over the seas to us.

To make an ounce of this essence, upon which our Violet Dulce is based, two tons of violets are used.

Violet Dulce Toilet Goods are sold to you under our positive guarantee. If you do not find them entirely satisfactory, you can have your money back. This guarantee is good in any Rexall Store, of which there are over 7,000, one lending drugstore in each important city and town in the United States, Canada and Great Britain. THE CHANCE OF CHATEAUGUAY.

The Government has issued the writ for the first of the series of bye-elections, and nomination will be held in the county of Chateauguay on October 4th and polling one week later. Entering the good fight with the good record of the Borden administration behind him, Mr. Morris, the Conservative candidate, can appeal for the support of the electors with a degree of confidence which his opponent will not possess. The Conservative candidate is pledged to support a government which in two years has put more real beneficial legislation on the statute books, and is administering it to the advantage of the people as a whole, than the Laurier administration did in fifteen years of power. On the other hand the Liberal standard bearer must follow the leadership of a group of men who put politics before patriotism, and whose policy, if carried out in its entirety, would weaken the ties which bind Canada to the motherland. The electors of Chateauguay have a splendid opportunity of demonstrating to the many leaders of the Liberal party that they will have nothing to do with the policy of negotiation. They have the chance to show what they think of the little gang of obstructionists which last session made of parliamentary proceedings a by-word and farce, and whose tactics pleased every enemy of the British Empire the world over. On the other hand the electors will have the opportunity of expressing their confidence in a government which in a business-like and quiet way has gone about its work of administering the affairs of Canada for the general good of the people. Chateauguay has a splendid chance, and all the signs go to show that the loyal electors of that constituency will take full advantage thereof.

MANUAL TRAINING, ETC.

The Advocate came back at the News last week in reply to our remarks regarding manual training in our schools. It still blames the School Board for not being more progressive along the lines of domestic science and manual training. It says: Their (the School Board's) duty is something more than supplying teachers and building schools, and then dismissing educational problems from their minds. The editor is certainly frank. It is a good thing to speak right out in meeting and say what one thinks. Last week we stated the Board retrenched because they saw there was no chance of getting money to carry on any extra expenditure. The Mayor, as head of the city, could not guarantee that the School Board could get the money they had asked for. The Mayor, as head of The Advocate, says the School Board should have expended a great deal more money than they have been expending. The fact of the matter is, the editor of The Advocate is just a little bit cracked on this manual training idea. It may be alright for Calgary, with its seventy-five thousand population, but there is no terrible rush for Red Deer, with its limited population, to go to this expenditure at the present time. It is The News' opinion that there is a limit to even free education for outside pupils. If, by encouraging fifteen or twenty pupils from outside points to attend our school, we are compelled to build a new $75,000 school, for instance, we contend it will not pay the ratepayers; it strains is too great. It is The News' opinion that the taxes of Red Deer are too heavy a burden already, and should be reduced. We have to pay too much for our education and for running the city generally. There are too many officials, and not enough men employed. The cost is becoming a burden to some of our citizens, and the greatest benefit should be made to reduce the general expenditure of the city in education and otherwise, and not increase it.

A NEW LEADER WANTED.

The Liberal party is sadly in need of comfort. It wants new leadership, and is apparently tired of being regarded as the personal property of the little clique of ex-cabinet ministers which met its deserts at the hands of the people two years ago. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who so sadly misjudged public sentiment in the reciprocity negotiations, made a similar mistake with regard to the naval issue, and the Liberals throughout the Dominion, feeling that they are on the wrong side of the fence in that matter, are looking for a new Moses to lead them to the promised land of power. Laurier's day as a leader is well high spent. True it is that a certain wing of the party cling to his skirts in the hope that his name has still magic to charm the voter. But it is a forlorn hope. There are unmistakable signs that the people are tired of Laurier and his opportunism. His attitude towards the important question of Empire defence and Canada's part therein, convinced every thinking Canadian that Laurier puts his own political ambitions ahead of Empire need. Laurier made a grave mistake over reciprocity. He has made a still graver mistake on the naval issue. He, by his facile majority in the Senate, has placed the people of the Dominion in the position of "spongers" on the British taxpayer. And no self-respecting Canadian, be he Grit or Tory, is content to be placed in such a humiliating position by a defeated and discredited politician.

The Vancouver Sun, one of the most rabid Liberal papers in Canada, in speaking of the best short-ago, says "The problem, in fact is to keep our products at home and to keep out unfair competition from the United States." Correct. But such sentiment seems strange coming from a Liberal paper; but it is in British Columbia, and at the present time every province has a policy of its own, so far as the Liberal party is concerned.

T. P. O'Connor does not fear war of course not; and John E. Redmond says the Ulster unrest is only an interesting comedy on a large scale. Still, if there should be war, these two worthy gentlemen would take good care they were not in the front ranks, like the people they traduce.

The Conservative Opposition in the Legislature spoke for only two days in a vain attempt to save the province millions of dollars, but this was long enough for the Albertan to cry out for the closure. It does beat all how inconsistent Liberal papers can be if they try.

Delburne

Delburne, Oct. 3.—Messrs. Lowry and Rogers, of Lowry's, Ltd., Calgary, were in Delburne over the week end. Mrs. Luekhardt is visiting in Red Deer this week. Mrs. Newburn is spending the week in Calgary and Banff. Mr. Gover, of Sylvan Lake, spent the past week in town at the home of Mr. M. J. Manning. Mr. Why, wholesale dry goods traveller from Winnipeg, is in town. Mr. Chapman, of Bentley, is visiting Mr. Haddon at the Methodist parsonage. On Sunday, September 28, a baby girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Gunn. On Sunday last a large number of Red Deer people motored out to Delburne for the day. Mrs. Larue Smith is in Red Deer this week. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have returned after a fortnight's trip to Edmonton. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kent spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Red Deer. Mr. Schmalz, of Aene, is the new junior at the Merchants' Bank, Delburne. This makes the staff here number three. Miss Wellwood, medical missionary, on her return trip to China, after an absence of a year and a half, was a visitor in Delburne last Sunday and Monday. On Sunday evening last she gave an address in the Methodist church of her work among the Chinese. Miss Wellwood is a sister of Mrs. E. J. Thompson, who gave an afternoon tea for her on Monday. Miss Thrall, sister of Chas. Thrall, expects to call on October 8th with Miss Wellwood from Vancouver for China. The trip lasts three months.

DEAD.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead who never to himself hath said: "My trade of late is getting bad; I'll try another eight-inch ad." If such there be, go mark him well, for him so blankly reads the line, no angels watch the golden stair to welcome home the millionaire. The man who never asks for trade by local line, or ad displayed, cares more for rest than worldly gain and patronage but gives him pain. Tread lightly, friends; let no rude sound disturb his solitude profound; here let him live in calm repose, unsought when he dies he moves. And when he dies, go plant him deep, that naught may break his dream; company, company, company, may dispel the quiet that he loved so well. And that the world may know its loss, place on his grave a wreath of moss, and on the stone above, "Here lies a clump who wouldn't advertise."

Government Votes Down Dr. Blow's Proposal To Save Province Millions. LEADER MICHENER MAKES ABLE SPEECH ON QUESTION

The supporters of Premier Sifton stood shoulder to shoulder with the Cross party in the Legislature on Friday in voting down an amendment calling for the government construction of the Alberta and Great Waterways railway.

In support of the amendment, Dr. Thomas H. Blow, of Calgary, read estimates from responsible engineers and contractors, showing that the road can be built for more than $5,000 per mile less than it will cost under the proposed arrangement with J. D. McArthur to build the road at the inflated guarantee price of $20,000 per mile. He further pointed out that by reserving a portion of the townships along the route to the government, the value of this property in a few years would pay for the cost of the construction of the line.

Leader Michener delivered the following speech on the question, in part:

Mr. Speaker, in rising to second the resolution of my honorable friend from South Calgary, I do so with a knowledge of the fact that my remarks are circumscribed by the rules of the debate. Many views and arguments have been presented to us during the past few days in connection with the question before the House. Irrespective of our differences of opinion, I believe we all are desirous of finding a solution of the question. In the short time at my disposal, I propose to analyze the essential points of the Government's proposition, also the proposition embodied in our amendment. We have before us a letter from J. D. McArthur, in which he proposes to take over the railway. We have also the bill, which we might call a bill of acceptance. It is difficult to understand the connection between the letter and the bill. While the letter proposes to enter into an arrangement with the Government to build the road, the bill re-establishes and re-affirms the standing of the Government as the Great Waterways Company, which is W. R. Clarke and his associates. When the bill finally passes, the A. & G. W. Company and not the Government make the arrangement with J. D. McArthur, as far as the information of the two documents is concerned. The Minister of Public Works, however, explains that the bill does not come into force except by proclamation of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, their argument being that this will not be done until McArthur has taken over the interests of the A. & G. W. and all necessary negotiations are completed in connection with the settlement. The Government may have control of the arrangements, but who will control the Government in those arrangements? If the members of the House delegate the Government with this power without knowing the nature of the agreement or arrangements which are to be made, then the Government have it in their own hands to make any kind of an arrangement which they see fit. The trouble with the A. & G. W. Company in the first instance was because the members of the House authorized the Government to make an agreement with the company, which agreement was largely responsible for all the trouble in connection therewith. Mr. Speaker, without any elimination of the bad features of the act of incorporation of the A. & G. W.; without the elimination of the bad features of the guarantee bonds, as well as the agreement which the Government entered into, it matters not whether it be J. D. McArthur, W. R. Clarke or anyone else, the personnel of the Company does not affect the bad features of the whole transaction. W. R. Clarke was to receive $20,000 per mile on the side, as well as on the main line. Does this apply to J. D. McArthur? It is not denied. The $7,400,000 is paid out, wherever the company is, before the road is ballasted or completed. No guarantee of bonds or cash deposit is required by J. D. McArthur as a guarantee of good faith. Furthermore, no guarantee of bonds is required with respect to the operation of the road; no penalty is attached. Therefore, the road may be built, the profits received, and left on the hands of the Government. If we are to give all these concessions without receiving any protection for the province, why should we give two millions of dollars more than the road would cost any private corporation. Why not the province take over the company, call for tenders and build the road. My honorable friend from Calgary has submitted an offer from a reliable construction company, possibly as equally reliable as J. D. McArthur, with 60 pound steel, for $14,000 per mile, which includes terminals at Edmonton, or for a total of $2,150,000 less than J. D. McArthur's proposal. Now, Sir, if the directors of a company, be entrusted with the business of the electors of this province, could any honorable member of this House hold stock in a company and stand for the directors to give contract of large proportions to a company whose tender is more than two millions in excess of another company, equally as responsible? I do not think there is a member of this House who would apply that principle to business. Then, why, Sir, in an unfair manner, should we not apply business principles to the government of the country. It has been charged that we are not interested in developing the north country. If the Government of the day had taken our proposal three years ago, which was practically the same as now, the Government to build the road and make the profit for the people instead of for private individuals, we would have by this time been realizing some of the benefits from the development of the rich and varied resources of the northern part of the province. We admit that our vision has extended with regard to the possibilities of the northern section of Alberta. We are anxious to have it developed, but we would like to have it developed in the interests of the people rather than in the interests of private speculators. If we can save two million dollars and more to the treasury of the province in the construction of the line by calling for tenders, we can recuperate ourselves from the loss of interest and the costs of litigation, which have been charged against the province, and still have a considerable balance in favor of the province. Can we justify ourselves, as members of the House, in supporting the Government's proposition in view of all the facts? We have had enough promotion railway schemes in Alberta, whereby men can increase their wealth without limit, without risk, and without expense. Why should not the Government take this matter out of all the entanglements of conflicting interest and complications and build it as a Government enterprise and thus establish the principle of public ownership and control of our public utilities?

In conclusion, while we may not agree upon questions of policy at all times, and while some on both sides of the House may have their party spectacles too highly colored, yet it seems to me that upon a question of this kind, which is a business proposition, we should come to a practicable business-like settlement which commends itself to all the members of the House. As far as we on this side are concerned, we would be delighted if the Government had made such a proposal that we could stand behind and justify ourselves before our own consciences, before the electors who have sent us here, and before the people as a whole.

Red Deer's Rosalind Continues Milk Period

Rosalind is now just half-way through a fourth consecutive year's test, in the first six months of which she gave 8027.7 lbs. of milk, average test 3.03, making a total of 32,626 lbs. of fat, or 540.78 lbs. of 80 per cent. butter, an average of practically 3 lbs. of butter for every day of six months. Her last calf, the fourth, was sold two weeks ago for $1,000. Rosalind's picture was to adorn the 1912 report of the department of agriculture of Alberta, and her record was called for this week by the dairy department of Purdue University, Indiana.

Reports from all over Canada show that the wheat is moving without hindrance and in unusual volume. The good work of the Borden Government in grappling with this problem is bearing fruit. Next year the situation will be even better, with additional facilities enough to encourage any increase in wheat production. Under the Laurier administration there was little encouragement for the western provinces to produce bumper crops.

The Dangers of Indigestion

You simply can't be well—that is, really well—if your digestion is bad for your very food may poison you unless it is digested. That is why indigestion (imperfect digestion) is the root cause of nearly all our minor ailments and many of our serious ones. Food should nourish your body, and make good the daily waste which never stops, but it can't do that unless your stomach digests it. No wonder dyspeptic men and women are always tired and ailing—they're starved and often poisoned too. Starved, mind you, not two million miles from food, but because they don't digest the food they eat. Poisoned, because their stomachs are weak and their bowels inactive, and so the food they eat ferments and gives off poisonous gases which are carried by the blood stream to every part of the body. It is because Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup possesses in a remarkable degree the power to tone, strengthen and regulate the action of the digestive organs—the stomach, liver and bowels—that it is still, after forty years' testing, the best known and most successful remedy for indigestion, constipation, biliousness and the many distressing ailments which are traceable to a weak or disordered condition of these important organs. Success breeds imitators, and there are many so-called substitutes for Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, but none of them contain the combination of powerful and purest herbs and extracts upon which the restorative and curative value of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup depends. If you suffer from indigestion, and wish to give Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup a trial, be sure you get the genuine article.

CARSON SUGGESTS PLAN TO SETTLE IRISH PROBLEM

Ulster Leader Says Exclusion of Province From Home Bill Would Be Acceptable.

London, Sept. 30.—Sir Edward Carson now states that the exclusion of Ulster from the Home Rule bill may yet prove to be the solution of the Irish problem. The Unionist papers regard this as an important pronouncement, but it has been absolutely certain that Redmond would never accept such a way out of the present deadlock as a settlement of the Nationalist claims. The Nationalists are the tasteful of the government, and they are standing out for their bargain for a home rule parliament in Dublin with executive responsibility to it. That is the insurmountable barrier between the parties, and until it is removed the prospect of a compromise is very remote.

Ulster will never accept a part in a conference which begins by conceding the principle of a home rule parliament and an executive responsible to it. That is the insurmountable barrier between the parties, and until it is removed the prospect of a compromise is very remote.

Redmond might be willing to allow Ulster some scheme of local autonomy so long as the supreme control remained in the hands of the British government. But Ulster is in no mood to accept such a solution of the difficulty.

On Saturday, October 4th, Sir Wilfrid Laurier has arranged to address a Liberal rally at St. John's. He will not be heard in Chateauguay until October 7 or 8, and will confine his speaking on behalf of Mr. Fisher to a one-day trip through the province, closing with a big rally at night. It is not known whether Premier Borden or Hon. George Foster propose to take a hand.

Just so with the early subscriber. He gets the big end of the stick by sending off his order in his order at the beginning of a big order.

We now submit a similar advantage to everyone within the zone of our possible circulation. We will give our paper, and "The Weekly Mail and Empire," from now till January 1st, 1914, for 25c, or we will give our paper and "The Weekly Mail and Empire" from now till January 1st, 1915, for $1.50.

How do we do it at the price? Well, we have made special arrangements with the new Mail and Empire, which will point out why people should be careful in the selection of what they eat and wear.

The Weekly Mail and Empire will be a blessing to many a household. The problems of the home will be demonstrated—explained by those who know. Interspersed with these object lessons, there will be staged twice daily a vaudeville show of the best as well as an array of several of the best shows obtainable.

Excursion rates will be in force on all railroads. Make your plans early to attend the Pure Food and Fashion Exposition, and don't forget the dates—October 18th to 28th, inclusive.

BRITISH BATTLESHIP MADE VERY FAST TIME.

London, Oct. 3.—It is reported unofficially that the new battle cruiser Queen Mary, in her recent full power trial, made a record speed of 35.7 knots. The Queen Mary was launched at Harlow, March 10, 1912. She is of 27,000 tons displacement and 75,000 indicated horsepower. Up to the time of her launching she was the largest warship ever launched in Great Britain. Her cost is estimated at $10,305,320.

COMPARATIVE GRAIN INSPECTIONS.

Total cars inspected at Winnipeg, Monday, September 29, were 1,730. Same day last year 562. At American terminals on the same day receipts were: Chicago, 64; Minneapolis, 388; Duluth, 545. A total of 907, giving Winnipeg a surplus over combined receipts of 762 cars. Out receipts are increasing, as 221 cars were inspected as against 12 for same day in 1912.

THINK FALL SESSION OF HOUSE UNLIKELY.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—That there will be no fall session of parliament, and that it will not assemble until November, is indicated by the fact that Senator Landry, speaker of the upper chamber, has this week booked a passage for France, and will be absent for some months. It is taken for granted in official circles that if the house was to have assembled as usual in November, Speaker Landry would not have left Canada.

The new Democratic tariff, removing or lowering the duties all along the line, seems to be an accomplished fact. And its almost two years ago, when the people of Canada refused to sacrifice their fiscal independence in order to get what is now coming to them for nothing.

These facts, taken together, the saddest of the year, for the friends of reciprocity.

Hon. Sydney Fisher to Run in Chateauguay

Announcement of Nomination of Ex-Minister Received With Interest

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 29.—The announcement that Hon. Sydney Fisher, former minister of agriculture, had been nominated by the Liberals of today's convention created considerable interest in the capital tonight. The nomination of the ex-minister is taken here to mean that there is "going to be a fight to a finish."

The contest will excite even more interest than the bye-election in South Renfrew, when Hon. George P. Graham was elected. That fight was a contest between the Liberals and a majority of 600 at the general election, and although the campaign was strenuous, a general impression was gained that Mr. Graham would be elected.

In Chateauguay, the late J. A. Brown had a majority of only forty. Although Chateauguay was always a Liberal stronghold, these figures doubtless mean that the result is likely to be in doubt until the last poll is heard from. The campaign will be in full swing in the course of a day or two.

Several ministers will probably be heard from before the campaign is over. It is believed that Mr. Fisher will not take place until next week.

On Saturday, October 4th, Sir Wilfrid Laurier has arranged to address a Liberal rally at St. John's. He will not be heard in Chateauguay until October 7 or 8, and will confine his speaking on behalf of Mr. Fisher to a one-day trip through the province, closing with a big rally at night. It is not known whether Premier Borden or Hon. George Foster propose to take a hand.

THE EARLY BIRD

Readers Are Requested to Emulate His Example

The Early Bird, as his name implies, does not need to be awakened by an alarm clock, but from natural temperament and characteristics is up and ready when the first material benefit offers itself. Just so with the early subscriber. He gets the big end of the stick by sending off his order in his order at the beginning of a big order.

We now submit a similar advantage to everyone within the zone of our possible circulation. We will give our paper, and "The Weekly Mail and Empire," from now till January 1st, 1914, for 25c, or we will give our paper and "The Weekly Mail and Empire" from now till January 1st, 1915, for $1.50.

How do we do it at the price? Well, we have made special arrangements with the new Mail and Empire, which will point out why people should be careful in the selection of what they eat and wear.

The Weekly Mail and Empire will be a blessing to many a household. The problems of the home will be demonstrated—explained by those who know. There is no cookery course, no domestic education course, no good living. Interspersed with these object lessons, there will be staged twice daily a vaudeville show of the best as well as an array of several of the best shows obtainable.

Excursion rates will be in force on all railroads. Make your plans early to attend the Pure Food and Fashion Exposition, and don't forget the dates—October 18th to 28th, inclusive.

BRITISH BATTLESHIP MADE VERY FAST TIME.

London, Oct. 3.—It is reported unofficially that the new battle cruiser Queen Mary, in her recent full power trial, made a record speed of 35.7 knots. The Queen Mary was launched at Harlow, March 10, 1912. She is of 27,000 tons displacement and 75,000 indicated horsepower. Up to the time of her launching she was the largest warship ever launched in Great Britain. Her cost is estimated at $10,305,320.

COMPARATIVE GRAIN INSPECTIONS.

Total cars inspected at Winnipeg, Monday, September 29, were 1,730. Same day last year 562. At American terminals on the same day receipts were: Chicago, 64; Minneapolis, 388; Duluth, 545. A total of 907, giving Winnipeg a surplus over combined receipts of 762 cars. Out receipts are increasing, as 221 cars were inspected as against 12 for same day in 1912.

Laurier Vs. The Admiralty

In view of the attitude of Sir Wilfrid Laurier towards the desirability of Canada taking a share of the burden of Empire naval defence—which attitude is one of absolute acquiescence in the high prices of naval stores—there is well to recall the advice given by the British Admiralty, as to how Canada could help effectively and quickly.

That advice was given in a statement placed before parliament by Premier Borden when he introduced his naval proposals. It is as follows:—"The Prime Minister of the Dominion having required in what form any immediate aid that Canada might give would be most effective, we have no hesitation in answering, after a prolonged consideration of all the circumstances, that it is desirable that Canada should provide a certain number of the largest and strongest ships of war, which science can build at a moderate cost."

There is the proposition in a nutshell. The Borden Government introduced a bill providing for three of the largest and strongest ships of war, which would give the immediate and effective aid desired by the British Admiralty. This bill was defeated by the Laurier majority, which will be held in Calgary from October 18th until October 28th, inclusive.

Pure Food Exposition

Probably the biggest event ever staged in the Canadian West will be the Pure Food and Fashion Exposition, which will be held in Calgary from October 18th until October 28th, inclusive.

The handsome new horse show building in Victoria Park has been secured for this great event, and this alone is a sign that the display of pure foods and fashions will eclipse anything ever staged in the West.

Manager Cheeseman, the man behind the gun in this great undertaking, has had several years' experience in the Pure Food Expositions in the middle west and south. He is also head of the Art Decorating Company, of Calgary, and his line of work will be of great value in making the Pure Food show attractive.

As well as having secured all the leading manufacturers of the Dominion to make exhibits of their products, Manager Cheeseman has made arrangements with the Manitoba Government to have their meat and dairy exhibits shown at this exhibition. This exhibit, as well as showing the different stages of this dreaded disease, due in a great measure to the use of impure food, will point out why people should be careful in the selection of what they eat and wear.

The Pure Food Exposition will be a blessing to many a household. The problems of the home will be demonstrated—explained by those who know. There is no cookery course, no domestic education course, no good living. Interspersed with these object lessons, there will be staged twice daily a vaudeville show of the best as well as an array of several of the best shows obtainable.

Beef Prices Are Going Up

The ultimate consumer should take great interest in the recent annual convention of the Meat Packers' Association at Chicago. Hereafter the public has believed that the high prices of meat prices are caused by the manipulation of the great meat trust, but the packers insisted at their meeting that the scarcity of beef and the prevailing high prices are the fault of the rancher and the farmer, who are not producing enough cattle to feed the population. We are facing conditions, one of the speakers said, which would have been thought impossible ten years ago. The shortage of live stock, which has been impressed upon us for a long time past, has been intensified during the past year. Demand exceeds the supply of meat products to such an extent that we have absolutely no margin of safety. The packers, the delegates said, were not able to secure a sufficient number of animals to keep them busy all the time and it is considered that there is a few years' means of any sort would be beyond the reach of the average man and that choice steaks would cost a dollar a pound, if not more.

There certainly has been a great reduction of cattle, both in Canada and the United States, in recent years. The big ranges over an immense territory have been broken up into farm lands where grain is grown and cattle are few. According to the statistics of the Dominion, there was a reduction in the number of cattle from 1900 to 1910 in the United States of nearly 12 per cent. The reduction in the United States was nearly ten millions, and in swine over six millions. Since the census was taken three years have elapsed, and the situation of the industry has been growing more acute. We all know that it has, all over the continent, but the consumer has good reason to believe that the biggest cost of his meat or his chop is not entirely due to the scarcity of beef, lamb or pork. The meat trust has always to be taken into account, and when it is considered that it is in league with the railways, that it has a thousand ramifications, all designed to plunder the people, we want other evidence to show us that the price of meat should go up.

Even, however, if the contention of the packers has a foundation in fact, the matter will right itself eventually. The farmer will find that it will pay them to raise steers or swine instead of growing grain, as they do now in the east. Fifty years ago there were as few beef cattle raised in New England as there were in the world, and every hillside was dotted with sheep and hams. But these did not monopolize the prices of cattle. But this industry has departed. It has largely departed, too, in Eastern Canada. Steady beef is still raised there in large quantities, but it is for the most part either exported to Great Britain or put in still storage to await high prices and a better market. The home consumer gets no chance at the present time unless he is wealthy enough to pay the very highest prices. The problem, in fact, is to keep our products at home and to keep out unfair competition from the United States.

Sifton Refuses to Give House Any Information Regarding His Solution

OPPOSITION PUTS GOVERNMENT AT THEIR WITS' END TO ANSWER VITAL QUESTIONS ON THE A. & G. W.—MINISTERS TALK ABOUT EVERYTHING BUT ISSUE AND INDULGE IN EULOGIES OF McARTHUR, WHO IS TO HAVE $2,000,000 BONUS.

Edmonton, Oct. 2.—The government's intention to rush through a blanket bill to retrieve the Alberta and Great Waterways and hand over practically $2,000,000 in addition to the provincial right in the sale of the townships, which will cover the entire cost of building the road, was delayed yesterday by the criticism of five Conservative members of the house. Though unable to justify the solution proposed, the government has also conceived the dangers of allowing the criticism to pass without making reply.

Yesterday Hon. C. W. Cross and Hon. Charles Stewart were selected by the ministry to stiffen the resolution of government supporters and offset any inclination which the new followers of the government might have to demand the inside detail of the proposals.

Neither cabinet minister made any effort to defend or justify the policy of the government as a proposition which will best serve the province. Mr. Cross and Mr. Stewart, both were of the opinion that Mr. McArthur's high reputation entitled him to any gratuity which the province could possibly confer upon him. Their pronouncements were simply upon the text set by Hon. C. R. Mitchell on Tuesday when he said in effect that the fact that McArthur was McArthur ought to convince the legislature that $2,000,000 thrown away to him was money well spent.

LONG DEBATE AHEAD. Critical addresses were delivered by Conservative members of the house and as yet there are eight opposition members who may have something to say on the measure. It is quite probable that the debate on the second reading will not end until next week, and there is a further possibility that the measure will be resisted when it comes up in committee before the whole house.

The opposition speakers yesterday were Robert Patterson of Macleod; S. B. Hillocks, North Calgary; John Kemmis, of Pincher Creek; H. H. Crawford, of South Edmonton, and G. E. L. Hudson, of Wainwright.

R. Patterson, who opened the debate in the afternoon, spoke of the nature of the legislation, and commented sharply upon the failure of the government to give the House any detailed information or any concrete form of agreement to show what the nature of the preliminary negotiations and agreements were.

"I would not be doing my duty to the people who sent me here," said Mr. Patterson, "if I did not rise and protest against this legislation. This measure before us, and all the reliable information before us, tends simply to show that we are asked to revive the Alberta and Great Waterways in the identical form in which it was first conceived, a form which was generally admitted to be the worst piece of legislation ever brought into the House. How can we then conscientiously support this bill without a fragment of sound evidence that the whole business will not be handed back to the original charter holders; and if never was a question of who should profit through this outrageous contract."

"It makes no difference whether it is Clarke or McArthur. The point is that the whole business is opposed to the best interests of Alberta; that it means a direct sacrifice of millions of dollars and should not be continued under any circumstances, no matter who the beneficiaries may be."

"We are asked," concluded Mr. Patterson, "to place everything in the hands of the premier; I would say that we did that on a former occasion and the result was terrible loss. We must be pardoned now if we insist on judging the methods of this whole case for ourselves."

HILLOCKS OBJECTS.

Mr. Hillocks took exception to the charge that the opposition was obstructing because the members knew that the road was to be built immediately; he emphasized the point that the opposition was fully in favor of its construction immediately but in a manner most favorable to the province. The need of transportation facilities in the north was recognized, and it was to meet this need that the company was incorporated and the bonds guaranteed in 1909; this guarantee and the subsequent contracts showed the incompetency of the Liberal government of that day, and this was emphasized by the fact that a member of the government of moral and financial responsibility equal to even Mr. McArthur offered to build the road for $13,000,000 and the government guaranteed its bonds at $20,000 per mile. Mr. Cushing had also offered to post $1,000,000 to be forfeited to the province if he failed to carry out his contract to construct the road for $13,000,000 per mile.

"The railroad company," said Mr. Hillocks, "which did not secure the contract was financed on a 'shoe string' and consequently failed, reflecting discredit upon the province. This faulty legislation was introduced by the present minister of education, the present minister of the matter entirely to him. We prefer to take a few to ourselves." Mr. Kemmis remarked that the government had shown a total lack of initiative in handling the problem. It has merely embraced the readiest outlet without counting the cost to the province, and was ready to sacrifice anything in order to shove the whole matter on to the hands of someone else.

F. H. Crawford could not see how members on the right of the speaker could sit still and let the government force a bill down their throats.

No matter how slight their parliamentary experience might be, they could not escape the knowledge that this measure was deserving of the condemnation of every man with the welfare of the province at heart.

Thirteen Hundred Miles Through the North Country

Edmonton, Alta., September 27.—Thirteen hundred miles in a wooden canoe on the swift northern rivers, and 300 miles overland through a wilderness in nine weeks, is a trip just completed by C. D. Melville, a member of the Dominion Fisheries Board, and John McKenna, both of Edmonton. The trip afforded the former an opportunity to investigate the possibilities of the northern waters, which, he reports, teem with white and other fish.

Melville killed two bull moose and two big-bears, shooting from a canoe while spinning along the Peace and the Wabasca rivers, which drop more than 900 feet in a distance of 320 miles. The banks are from 50 to 100 feet above the sea level. He reports seeing large numbers of moose, bear and other big game and wild geese, ducks and pheasants. He and McKenna found indications of asphalt, sulphur, iron and other metals on the way from Athabasca to Fort Vermilion.

The voyageurs explored the provincial government's experimental farms, six miles from Fort Vermilion, midway between the 58th and 59th parallels of latitude, near which the Lawrence family, residing in the district since 1850, this season cut 300 acres of wheat, which averaged more than 18 bushels the acre. The experimental farm, it is reported, is making satisfactory progress.

"The north country is being settled and developed rapidly," Melville said on returning to this city, "and the pioneer is bringing things with the coming of the railroads."

Board of Health
in North Red Deer

Immediately following the regular meeting of the Council of North Red Deer, on Monday evening last,
the Board of Health held a meeting, which was presided over by the Dr. Gray was present. After the reading of the minutes of the last regular meeting, Dr. Gray referred to the excellent conditions of health prevailing in the village this year so far. Following such an epidemic of typhoid fever as had occurred last fall, the Doctor thought it remarkable. Three cases of diphtheria only have been reported so far this year. It must be apparent to all the ratepayers that it pays to keep their premises in a sanitary condition.

In order to obtain a more modern and sanitary scavenging system, whereby refuse will be taken away with it, was resolved to adopt a system described by the Medical Health Officer, and the Chairman and Secretary were appointed a committee to confer with the Doctor regarding same and report to the Board. Full particulars will be given later.

The M.H.O. also recommended that as most diseases were contracted through either milk or water, it was advisable to regulate and confine the sale of milk in the village to only those vendors whose cows had been tested by tuberculin. It was resolved thereupon that on and after November 1st, all persons selling milk within the limits of the village must obtain a permit from the Secretary-Treasurer, which could be granted only after the production of a veterinary certificate, and that any person violating this by-law would be liable to a fine of $5.00.

The Secretary was instructed to advise this fact in each local paper for two insertions.

and most laughable plays ever put on in Red Deer. The club will also give "The Pom-Pom," the same evening, and there will be a big night's fun for all. The Theatrical Club should receive the support of GOOD PUMPS.

Would you rather pay for a pump once when you buy it, or pay for one three or four times?

When you buy a pump poorly made from cheap materials, you have only started to pay for it, for you have to pay for a couple of others during the time a good one would still be giving satisfactory service.

This isn't the worst feature of buying a cheap pump; the annoyance and inconvenience it causes by getting out of order is even worse than the expense.

The pumps we sell are the reliable, durable kind, that give lasting satisfaction. They run easily, flow the most water and do not require repairs or get out of order.

When you need a pump, it pays to buy one of ours and if you already have a poor one, it will pay you to buy a good one from us NOW.
